Name: Anaya Fatima

Date Of Birth: 5th of January, 1998

Ruling Planet: Mercury and Saturn

Astrological Star: Capricorn

Zodiacal Influence for the month of January:

The month of January comes under the Zodiacal Sign of Capricorn. The 21st December marks the day of its commencement when the influence of Sagittarius begins to fade and Capricorn comes into power. By the end of the year, approximately around 28 December is when Capricorn comes into full power. Some basic principles of this month noticed in character and disposition include:

By nature, you are ambitious, energetic and preserving. You have the capability of putting in enormous efforts toward your goals and aims if you put your mind to it. You have a very discreet touch to your personality. You take caution and prefer to calculate thoroughly before taking any important step in life or any matter. You are skeptical and analytical. It is hard to shake you off from your beliefs. However, you are open to new ideologies and discussions. Your mental force is strong in philosophical ideas. You are a deep thinker and reasoner. You need great motivation and consistency to carry out your ideas and plans. Otherwise, you will easily be inclined to discouragement in your plans, sinking into hopelessness at initial disappointments.

Your views on love, duty and social life are different from others, which is why you might often find yourself standing away from the crowd. Being high-minded and energetic, you must lead whatever work you choose or otherwise you'll lose interest. You show respect to tradition and authority. However, you do not tolerate any form of restraint and stand against it.

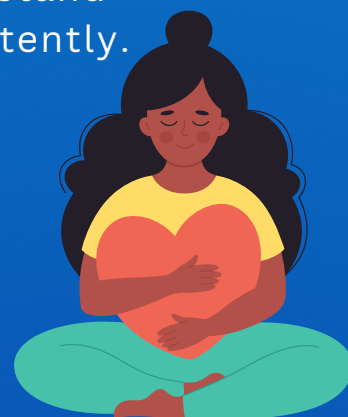

- You are more likely to rise through your own personal efforts and power of individuality. Your character is essentially positive, but you need to cultivate and promote cheerfulness in your life. As there is a strong chance of anxiety and depression throughout your struggles.

Influence and Power of your name:

Your name “Anaya Fatima” is a beautiful and powerful name. It holds great strength of individuality and action. You have strong will and determination. You like to be independent and lead. Throughout life, you will face many challenges and quarrels at multiple positions. However, your determination and ambition will aid you in taking these problems on with courage. In a sense, you can also be called a “Fighter”. You make many enemies and opposition. You should try to manage your impulsiveness as it is prone to cause problems and setbacks for you. Heads up! Deep affections can be a great blessing or a great risk for you. Your ability to love beyond comprehension can lead to your heartstrings being controlled and you might face grave sorrows. Which might lead you to let your ambitions go to pieces. However, your personality has this power to withstand any blow of fate. You recover, gradually but persistently.

You have strong individuality, creativity and a sense of competition. You desire to lead and set an example. You do not like anything imposed on you. You love to make your own decisions. You also carry a fear of failure, which is why you prefer to do things your way and by yourself. This particular trait can sometimes lead to you being selfish in some matters. Promoting a sense of stubbornness.

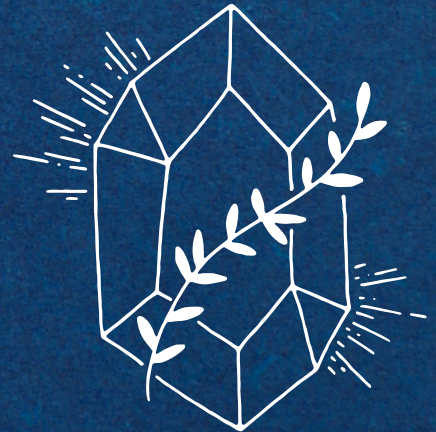

- You make friends easily and get along with people well. You crave excitement and adventure. You are a born speculator and are attracted to mysteries and curiosities. Under mental tension, you are impulsive and impatient. Like mentioned earlier, you prefer to do things your way. Which is why if it comes to it, you will not hesitate to remove anything or anyone that comes between you and your goals.

Lucky Stones, Days and Colors:

- Your lucky stones include almost all of the glittering stones, especially Diamond. Putting it into simple terms, Ruby, Garnet (Preference given to Ruby) and Diamond stones will benefit you the most. Other than these, you can also wear an Aqeeq of lighter color, made in silver or platinum preferably close to your skin.

- Wearing a Diamond will help you prevent misunderstanding and provide you with clarity of thoughts. It promotes creativity, imagination and health. Diamond has the power to cancel out bad vibrations, imparting fearlessness, mental and emotional strength. This can greatly help you out with your anxiety and depressive problems you might face as mentioned earlier.

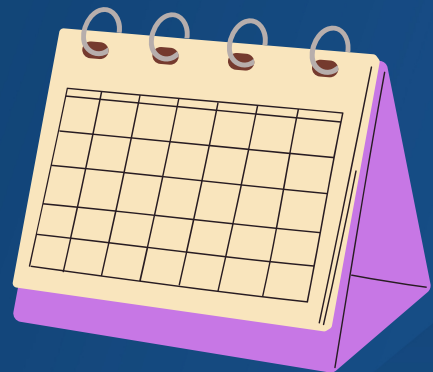

Ruby symbolizes passion and love. It gives command and authority over your emotions. It promotes courage and strength. It will also help you in making wiser decisions and be less hasty and impulsive. Wearing a Ruby will help you overcome your disputes with others.

They will put their trust in you more which will benefit you in maximizing your natural ability to lead and command.

You should prefer to wear Light Colors, as they will suit you the most. If you like to wear dark colors, try to wear Crimson or Scarlet. However, using light colors will be more beneficial to you. White, Gray, Light-Golden and Bronze are some of the examples.

More “Fortunate” days of the week for you are Wednesday and Friday. Especially if they are on the 5th, 14th or 23rd of any month.

Advise on how to utilize your abilities and achieve your true potential:

Giving a read to the previous topics, you should get a good idea of yourself. You can now understand why and how you are the way you are. You have some quite dominant features to your personality. Which is why you stand out from the rest of the crowd. However, all these traits put in a negative context, might prove to be harmful too. Which is why now we'll look at how we can put these traits to their best use.

Trust Yourself:

You have a creative and imaginative mind. You have a good opinion of yourself. The idea here is to believe in yourself. You might face problems taking initiative as you are analytical and calculated. You need to be sure at first that your plans will succeed.

Have faith in yourself, use your natural abilities to lead and listen to the deep voice inside you telling you what to do. ✨

Don't Lose Heart | Utilize Your Impulsiveness:

To balance out your abilities, it is natural for life to throw challenges and hurdles at you. You will face a lot of quarrels and opposition in every field of life, especially from your closed ones. There might come a blow where you will want to let go of things. This is the point where you should not let your impulsiveness take over. Take a step back and closely analyze the situation. Utilize the energy of your impulsiveness and push again. You might not realize it, but there will actually be a lot of people dependent on you!

Take Lead:

You are a natural born leader. You might often find yourself being the center of a social circle. That is because you have the natural ability to attract people towards you. Competency is engaging. You will notice that you can get along with a wide variety of people. Be an inspiration to them. Use your creative mind and share your ideas with them. Not only will it help them learn, but it will also help you grow beyond comprehension.

Another point should be mentioned before the conclusion is regarding your ruling planet. Mercury presents quite a unique ability. You will notice, it does not matter how harsh the blow life throws at you, you can recover from it. The determination you get from Saturn combined with this makes you nearly unstoppable. At the start, it might take some time to notice it. You will even feel that you can't do it. However, once you start to put faith in yourself, you'll become more connected with your inner voice. And once that connection is made, you'll be amazed to see the results.

Conclusion:

To conclude, we believe you have great potential. You can bring change. You can be the trend setter.

Take your time trying to understand all that is mentioned earlier. We promise you, it will help you understand yourself much more clearly and give you a deeper analysis of yourself. Once you know what your strong points are, it will be easier for you to strengthen them more and utilize their true potential. Every individual is born different. With a unique skill set and personality. The one who understands it early on is the one that continues to rise above the rest.

Take a day or two observing yourself. See if you can spot your abilities and traits coming in effect at different times and occasions. Rome was not built in a day. Take your time and follow through with our advice. Make a journal if it is feasible for you, it will speed up your progress significantly. Track your day and note down whenever you feel like your true personality emerges. Don't dull it down, promote it. Listen to that voice coming from deep inside of you. The more you listen, the more clear it gets.
